Henry Stamm's Funeral.

Heary Stamm's Funeral.

The funeral yesterday forenoon of Mr. Henry Stamm was unusually largely attended, especially by the older citizens and prominent business men. Rev. Dr. W. H. Cooke, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. William Ulfert, the former making an appropriate and feeling address in English and the latter one in German. The foral emblems were profuse and many of them as beautiful as ever seen. The pallbearers were A. Iteymann, A. Rolf, H. Bieberson, C. A. Schnefer, J. J. Jones and G. W. Jeffers. The Warwick pottery shut down vesterday forenoon out of respect to Mr. Stamm, who was one of its directors.

Petitions from several taxpayers to be allowed to work out their road taxes on private roads of their own were received from the committee on roads and bridges, but re-referred to that committee. MISS KNOTTS EXPLAINS.

She Insists that $47 Was Stolen from the Pocketbook.

Miss Jeannette Knotts, of Mannington, called at the INTELLIGENCER office yesterday, and made a statement in regard to the article in yesterday's Ix-TELLIGENCER. Miss Knotts explained that she, her mother and a little girl.
Daigy Koen, were passing Hottman's resthurant, and the child, seeing an ice cream sign, asked them to take her in.
They did so, and were shown up stairs. They laid their pocket book, containing $47,00 the mantelpiece, and after eating, left the room, going to another part of the house. When they returned, the young lady continued, the pocketbook was in its place, open, and the money was gone. They immediately gave the alarm, complaining that they had been robbed. The attaches of the establishment denied having taken the money, and the police were called in and searched them. Miss Knotts insists that the money was in the pocket-book when she laid it down, and that the contents were abstracted in the rostnurm. The young lady also says she afterward saw the young man employed at the restaurant and paid him the seventy-five cents for the three meals. that she, her mother and a little girl,

CHURCH EXTENSION WORK

Of the Lutheran Synod Explained-The General Secretary at the English Lutheran Church.

Rev. H. H. Weber, General Secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church, talked last night at the English Lutheran church on the work of lish Lutheran church on the work of the board. His theme was the character of the work, the fields that are open, the opportunities at hand and the wants, and he filled out the theme with apt illustrations.

Mr. Weber explained the system on which the board works. Funds are raised by voluntary contributions from the members of the church. Money is loaned for five years without interest to congregations unable to build churches, and at the end of that period the same money is loaned out to other congregations.

and at the end of that period the same money is loaned out to other congregations.

The general secretary said that these funds accomplished more work than the same amount of money would do in other denominations, owing to the larger quantity of available material the Lutheran church has to work on Ninety-five per cent of the Scandanavian race, which includes the Norwegians, Swedes, Danes and Finns, belongs to the Lutheran church, and 75 per cent of the inhabitants of Germany are members of the same denomination.

Rev. Mr. Weber's talk was full of good points and was listened to with interest. This being the first time his wife has accompanied him to Wheeling, the congregation took advantage of the occasion to make the lady's acquaintance. After the address an informal reception was held, Rev. Mr. Dornblaser introducing the members of the congregation.

PURE WATER DAILY.

The Wheeling Ice and Storage Company's Plan of Service.

The idea of the Wheeling Ice and Storage Company to furnish pure water for household use by wagon service has been explained in the INTELLI-GENCER. The company sent out 800 circulars explaining the scheme and askculars explaining the scheme and asking responses, and only received eight orders. Mr. Conner said yesterday that he was not yet discouraged, for a number of people told him they wanted the water and others had said they did not understand the proposition. The company may yet try the plan.

It is proposed to deliver water either in cans or from a tank wagon. A family getting one gallon a day, six gallons a week, will pay only 10 cents a week, that is 3½ cents a gallon. The larger quantity cynsumed per day the cheaper it is by the gallon; ten gallons, 2 cents; twenty gallons, 1½ cents, and so on for larger quantities.

The analysis shows the water to be chemically pure, and this system certainly solves, at a reasonable expense to the consumer, the pure water question for individual water convertion.

What we offer this week are goods of an "immediate need" charac-ter, entirely seasonable and withall indispensable. They may have met your eye at other places, but never has it rested on them at our prices, which are always the lowest and which will, this week, be on these "immediate need" goods lower than ever. We have Lee Chests at $6; we have them, in fact, at any price. Your attention, however, we would have especially directed to our large Solid Ash Ice Chests, guaranteed charcoal filled, for $9, worth $12. We cannot stop to talk about their worth; it's entirely foreign to our present considerations of how many of these goods lwe have and how long it will take to dispose of them.
